ABSTRACT

DIMAS ERIK SUMILAT. Gender Analysis of Garment Industry’s Female Workers’ Household with Putting Out System. Supervised by EKAWATI SRI WAHYUNI.

Unequality of the division of labor between men and women in the household will effect the double burden, especially to the women. To improve total revenue of family, the women usually needs to be involved into the productive activity. One of the working system that allow women to do domestic and productive activites at the same time is putting out system. However, this system has many disadvantage to the female workers, especially at the payment of the wages, the safety of working and the welfare of the workers. The purpose of this paper is to analyze the gender role of female workers’ household in garment industry with putting out system. The used method in this paper is the analysis method of library materials, such as thesis, scientific journals, text books, and reports of other research related with gender issues in textile/garment industry with putting out system. The conclusion of this paper is although the marginalization of the female workers in the garment industry with putting out system stil exists, the female workers keep working to improve the welfare of her household.

Keyrole: gender issues, division of labor, putting out system.